

A image or a interactive world map, when the users cursor go on the continents it highlights it and show a summary tab of the reports that are in the database.

A description of the system and briefly explain what it does, and welcome the users to the website.

Select a Continent

Select a Region

Select a Country

Select a City

Population Reports

→ In this you can select which population report you want to generate

Select the number of results you want to generate in the report

Generate

https://

Generated Report

